

Appendix C

Move a Casualty to Cover

Conditions: While in a care under fire environment, you have a casualty who has received treatment and requires movement to cover. You may have assistance from other soldiers.

Standards: Move a casualty to cover using the appropriate drag, without causing further injury to the casualty or yourself.

Required equipment and supplies: ballistic helmet, individual body armor, a writing instrument, a fully stocked improved first aid kit (IFAK), and rescue randy manikin or simulated casualty.

ACTIONS:	1st	2nd	3rd
1. Choose the method to move the casualty.
a. Neck Drag
(1) Place the casualty on his/her back.
(2) If the casualty is able, have him/her hold hands together, interlocking fingers.
(3) Straddle the casualty in a kneeling face-to-face position.
(4) Place the casualty's hands behind your neck.
(5) Crawl forward, looking ahead, dragging the casualty with you.
b. Cradle-Drop Drag
(1) With the casualty lying on his/her back, kneel at the head.
(2) Slide your hands, palms up, under the casualty's shoulders.
(3) Get a firm hold under his/her armpits.
(4) Partially rise, supporting the casualty's head on one of your forearms.
(5) With the casualty in a semi-sitting position, rise and drag the casualty backwards.
